

Honouring the Graduates 2011

NCF family very well understands the principle of sowing and reaping. That is, if you work hard for it, you will surely reap a harvest or reward for what you've done. That's why whenever opportunity presents itself, our church will surely put this principle into practice.

Last April 10, just before the Sunday service ended, the Ladies Ministry of Novaliches Christian Fellowship spearheaded the program to congratulate the students who graduated and those who received academic awards and honours. From preparatory to high school, students were given certificates and medals as appreciation for their hard work and the excellence they've exhibited in their studies. Furthermore, parents of the graduates and honour students were also recognized and acknowledged for their tremendous support and efforts to guide their children to the right path through the grace and love of our God.

The program was not only meant to reward those students, but to commit them as well unto the Lord so they will continue to give their best as they progress in their pursuit of knowledge, not only in the classroom orientation, but also in their everyday experiences in life as children of God. The whole congregation expressed oneness in heart as they were led in prayer by Pastor Kirby Figueras. Fervently they prayed that this will also serve as a challenge to every student to give their best in school, not just for the medals or certificates and rewards that they are going to receive, but to follow the mandate of the Lord to be good stewards of the blessings that He entrusted to them.
