

Harvesting Harvesters for God's Vineyard

Last May 22, Novaliches Christian Fellowship conducted an Evangelism Seminar, spearheaded by the "Men of Truth", the Men's Ministry of NCF. More than 40 participants, adult and young people alike, braved the rainy afternoon, came with determined hearts and minds to be informed and to be equipped as well in fulfilling the Great Commission by our Lord Jesus Christ, that is, to spread the good news of salvation to every creature.

Pastor "Boype", a veteran of Campus Crusade for Christ and instructor in International Graduate School of Leadership (IGSL), did not waste a single moment. Instead, he kept everyone alive with his enthusiasm in discussing some key insights on how to be effective in sharing the Word of God to our families and friends and in any place we can possibly present the gospel such as in schools and in offices and in our very communities.

Truly the harvest is plenty but the workers are few. That's why everyone was challenged to press on and to be faithful in carrying out God's mandate for all of us who have already come to the light of His salvation by His grace and mercy.
