

Heavenly Perspective

Colossians 3:2, "Set your minds on things above, not on earthly things."

What is the key or the measure for living an abundant, prosperous, peaceful and fulfilling life? Is it the money on your bank account or your financially-rewarding job? Is it your stable business or your high level of education? Is it your power or authority over a particular people? Or maybe your garage full of pretty cars?

If you've answered Yes to any of those options and you also have other earthly things in mind, then you're definitely living or be living a miserable life, a life that is deceived and blinded by the marketing strategy of this chaotic, sin-stricken and never-satisfied world. There's nothing wrong in acquiring those things though. However, those are not keys to fulfilment in life. Rather, snares of the devil to steal and kill and destroy.

As Christians, we are to embrace willingly in our hearts a heavenly perspective, the very mind of God. Our eyes must be focused upon Christ, not on temporal things with fading beauty and glory. We have to allow Him to direct our lives, so we can live in a manner that is pleasing to Him, to the Lord Who gave us heavenly citizenship, snatched us out of the flames of hell through His sacrificial death on the cross, paying the penalty for our sins. Christ is the key to living a life that is in tune with God. It requires setting your mind on the business of God, of His Kingdom, of His glory and of His love for all of us.

May you be reminded and be a living reminder to others to live a life with heavenly perspective, the key to the fulfilled and abundant life. - KOF
